

Over the next 10-years BBC will transform into a spiritually deep body of “everyday missionaries” where they work, play and live. There will be constant stories of transformation as parents lead and disciple their kids to Christ. We will be marked with calls to ministry, church planting, students on mission after graduation, diversity, and known by schools because of our heart for 5-18 years olds. Bottom line, BBC will be filled with people who look and act like Jesus.
